LOST AND FOUND AT PICNIC

Lost - Girls bathing cap - See A. Walters
Found - Boys catchers mitt - See A. Walters

DIDJAKNOWTHAT:

The sun shone, the fleecy clouds floated in the azure, everyone came out with their Juniors and Janes and then the rains came - got damp quick, didn't it? And no place to go except into the pool or the bath house so everyone stood 'round and got wetter and wetter - what a drip!... And another former REAer has gone onward and upward. Charming Col. Westray Battle Boyce will now be the first lady of the WAC....From now on one can expect a perpetual trek eastward. That is unless ODT catches up with 'em. Our Liaison office has been moved and we QUOTE from the drab, utilitarian South Building where the temperature soars daily into the upper 90's UNQUOTE and are now ensconced in the rarefied air (cool) conditioned atmosphere of the second floor west wing. Wannabet everyone took a field trip during the moving???? Whether "That Man" had a finger in this moving pie one cannot ascertain but perhaps his activities in cooling off the Liaisoners explains his indifference to the plight of the boys and gals who are still trying to refute the theory (or is that fact) that two objects cannot occupy the same space at the same time. Also those new offices are all painted, papered and highly waxed which must be a load off the minds of the "clean-up-crew". For the story goes that a certain Liaisonier not being able to abide the manner in which the former occupants had treated the walls of fame in the old office, grabbed the scrub brushes, sponges and even art gum and what a clean-up ensued. Irene Oakie wore one finger to the bone, broke three finger nails and knocked the latest shade of come-hither nail polish off all the others, G. Leachman developed housemaid's knee while Mr. Conner, that devotee of the office beautiful, came right off his terrace - he uses the more prosaic terminology of "level", and took it in his stride and when that day's work was finished one would never have recognized that theatre of operations. Now they're going so far as to have D. Haines whip up a few antimacassars to tack here and there so if the boys must rest their latest crew cuts against the walls there will be left no tell tale marks of what the well groomed man uses to subdue the unruly ringlets....That little guy with the bow and arrow and not too much in the way of raiment is still carrying on and on. Gladys Wright CODer, and Rex Tyne one of the T. W's of the Diviz of VIP, have announced they will merge. 'Twas either giving up field reports or those billet doux and the field reports won out for "Simon Legree" Eardley (having forgotten his own days of pitching a bit of "amour") insisted that field reports be received though

Rex was much too interested in what he had to say to G. to waste too much time on such mundane things as a field report..Anywhoooo, everything's goin' to be a'right now and soon there is to be a wedding. And that office of S. L. Eardley's is now something to write home about - when they tried to get certain "set-pieces" to occupy what had been allocated them as space they had to forget all the fundamentals of engineering, physics and whathaveyou and have now contrived to gather more avoirdupois into one office than the whole shaky building should stand. There is also a foot-loose and fawncy free gent holding forth there which doesn't add to the safety of the place for the gals can find so many errands to A. Peyton's desk that the line forms to the right. HERE, THERE AND EVERYWHERE: Lt. Harry and Mary McCollum on a flying visit before Harry takes off for points west for a slap at the Japs while he leaves Junior and another brand new future flyer to carry-on on the home front; CSp (Q)(RP) Sam Hoss wanting to know if anyone has a 35mm camera for sale or loan so he may record some scenes of New Orleans where he can now be found at 35 Federal Building; Jennie Stanek being serenaded on the bus by a fellow troubadour; B. B. W. a summer bachelor while he paints and paints but wants it distinctly understood 'tis not the town red; R. Hackman unable to sit, stand, talk or walk since acquiring the latest in skin tone; Mary Stockwell back from a. l'ing on an excursion boat thru the Great Lakes; Nita Franco with paper clips (now we know why they disappear) to keep her shining tresses in place, though there are those who contend they add no extra glamour and others who say she needs none; W. Early of the Fins saying au revoir to REA for GAO; W. W. Walters of the Fins on the not-so-well list; Mo.M.M. 2/c Irvin Brown and Genie Kotner saying their "I do's" and hoping this war won't last forever; B. J. Morgan with GUM - bubble gum;
